

HOLOCAUST MEMORIAL DAY

• Listen and read, then answer.

This is Auschwitz-Birkenau, in Poland, a concentration camp liberated on 27th January 1945.

Holocaust Memorial Day takes place on 27th January to commemorate the mass murder and the persecution of the Jewish people by nazis and fascists during the Second World War. This persecution is called Shoah or Holocaust. These two words mean "catastrophe", in Hebrew and in Greek. The aim of the Holocaust Memorial Day is to inform people about the atrocities committed in the past so that they'll never happen again.

Anne Frank was a Jewish girl who was persecuted and killed in a concentration camp by nazis in 1945. She is famous for her diary. We can find information in it about her life and about other Jewish people's lives during the persecution.

"I don't think of all the misery, but of the beauty that still remains."
