

HOGMANAY

• Listen, circle and match.

Hogmanay is a Scottish celebration on 31st December, the last day of the year.

Before the party, it is traditional to ❶ decorate your house / clean your house.

During the party people

❷ watch TV / sing and dance and at midnight they hold hands and sing a special song called ❸ Auld Lang Syne / Flower of Scotland.

It is the tradition to go "first-footing" after the song where you

❹ run in the park / visit friends.

People take

❺ books and pencils / cake and coal.

On 1st January it's time to make your

New Year's ❻ Resolutions / Preparations.
